

Making predictions: Self-assessment

Fill the gaps with 'will', 'won't' or 'might'.

Jose and his possibility to work developing accounting software

Jose is a computer engineer. He is sure he 1 _____ have an interview for a supermarket place as developer of accounting software. He is good at dealing with computers but not with people. He isn't a sociable person, so he is sure he 2 _____ get on well with his new colleagues. Anyway, he decides to take a course to improve his social skills, because he really needs that job. The supermarket is offering a good salary and Jose only needs to work with two other people. He is sure he 3 _____ able to manage that after following the course. Also, he doesn't think he 4 _____ answer the questions correctly during the interview. He thinks he 5 _____ make a lot of mistakes because interviews make him nervous. So he is practicing with a great friend. Today is the interview. Jose is ready. He goes in an old suit. He thinks he 6 _____ make a good impression during the interview. He thinks he 7 _____ do that great at the end. Given the opportunity of the job, he 8 _____ be able to accomplish all his goals. The supermarket 9 _____ tolerate his inability to get along well with colleagues if he does a great job. If he doesn't rise to the needs of the company, he 10 _____ be fired. Or, if he exceeds at his job, he 11 _____ be promoted quickly. Who knows? Only the future knows.