READING AND WRITING UNIT 1 VOCABULARY SKILL

USING THE DICTIONARY

Instruction: Use the given dictionary pages to answer the questions that follow.

perceive verb trans. (perceived, perceiving) 1 to apprehend (an image) by sight. 2 to understand, interpret, or view: perceived her role as teacher, not disciplinarian. ▸ perceivable adj.

percent or per cent (SYMBOL %) adv. 1 in or for every 100. 2 on a scale of 1 to 100: 90 percent certain. —noun (usu. percent) 1 a percentage or proportion. 2 one part on every 100: half a percent.

percentage (pər-sĕnt'ĭj) noun 1 an amount, number, or rate stated as a proportion of one hundred. 2 a proportion.

1. What part of speech is "percent"?

_____

2. How many meanings does the word "perceive" have?

_____

3. What are the two ways to spell the irregular word forms of "perceive"?

_____

1. Does the word "phenomenon" have multiple definitions?

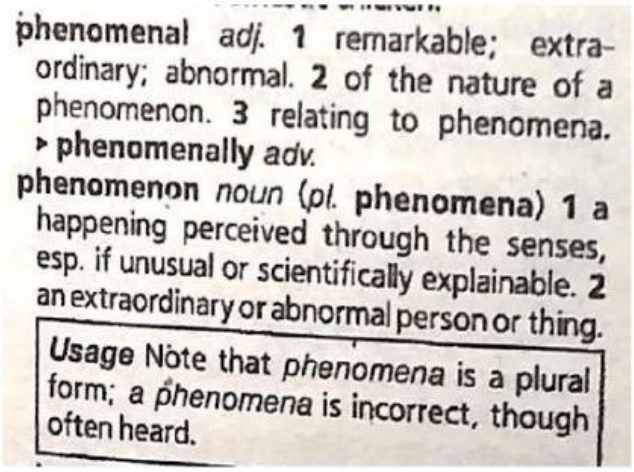

_____

2. What is the plural form of the word "phenomenon"?

_____

3. Does the word "phenomenal" have formal usage?

_____

phenomenal adj. 1 remarkable; extraordinary; abnormal. 2 of the nature of a phenomenon. 3 relating to phenomena. ▸ phenomenally adv.

phenomenon noun (pl. phenomena) 1 a happening perceived through the senses, esp. if unusual or scientifically explainable. 2 an extraordinary or abnormal person or thing.

Usage Note that phenomena is a plural form; a phenomena is incorrect, though often heard.

Instruction: Search for the part(s) of speech, spelling of irregular forms, number of multiple definitions and common collocation(s) of the following word:

qualify	part(s) of speech
	Spelling of irregular forms
	No. of multiple definitions
	Common collocation(s)

LIVEWORKSHEETS