

1- Choose the correct options.

Some countries have many regional dishes.

My mom doesn't like _____ milk in her tea.

Do you eat _____ rice?

We don't eat _____ potatoes.

There isn't _____ coffee in the kitchen.

In many countries, there isn't _____ fish,
so people eat a lot of meat.

I only need a few eggs for this dish.

There's only _____ soda in the fridge.

We're buying _____ loaves of bread.

We're eating _____ pasta with tomato sauce.

There are _____ mangoes in the fridge.

A: What kind of juice is this? It's delicious.

B: It has two kinds of fruit. There's _____ orange juice in it, and there's _____ mango juice.

A: Is there _____ pasta on the menu?

B: No, but there's _____ meat.

A: Can I make a sandwich?

B: Sure, but there isn't _____ bread.

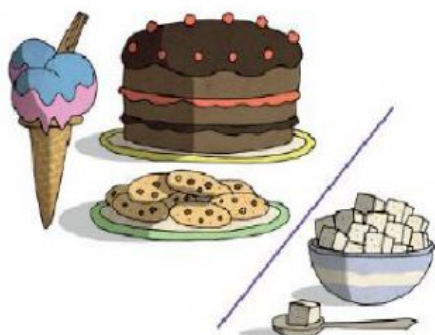

A: What about cheese?

B: You're in luck. There's _____ cheese.

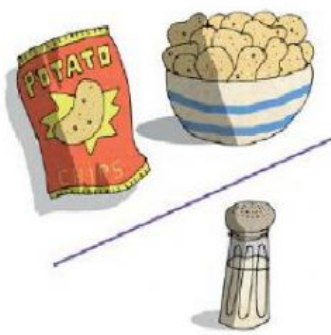

A: How do you make this salad?

B: It's easy. I use _____ cold potatoes, eggs, and _____ chicken.

2- Listen and choose the correct option

1. Ice cream, cake, and cookies are _____

2. Chips are _____

3. Lemons are _____

4. Hot peppers are _____

5. Pretzels, nuts, and crackers are _____

6. Mangoes and oranges are _____

3- Listen and choose TRUE - FALSE

- ___ 1. They're both going to have cake.
- ___ 2. He's going to have chips.
- ___ 3. Kate would like ice cream.
- ___ 4. The peppers are too spicy for her.
- ___ 5. He doesn't like peaches.
- ___ 6. The pretzels are too salty for Ron.
- ___ 7. They don't like the nuts in the salad.
- ___ 8. He likes sweet mangoes.

4- Read and choose the correct option.

T = TRUE

F = FALSE

NT = NOT IN THE TEXT

Charlotte:

Some people think we're crazy, but we Americans love peanut butter, especially in peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. For me, the totally best lunch is a peanut butter and jelly sandwich on white bread with a glass of milk. Yum!

My cousin Claire is from France. She likes some of our typical dishes, especially hot dogs and hamburgers. But Claire thinks many American foods are terrible. She thinks our worst food is peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. She says, "No offense, but I don't think sweet foods and salty foods go together. And I don't really like American white bread either. Come to France if you want to taste the best bread in the world!"

Well, I do go to France sometimes and Claire is right about the bread. French bread is delicious. But a few of the things they eat in France are (to me) a little gross, like snails!

Americans love peanuts, peanut products, and peanut butter. Here's something I found on a website about peanuts in American food:

In the U.S., more than 90% of all families eat peanut butter. More than 40% of American candy bars have peanuts or peanut butter in them. And the average American eats more than 2.5 kilos of peanuts and peanut butter a year.

That's a lot of peanuts and peanut butter!

- | | |
|---|--|
| ___ 1. Charlotte and Claire are from the United States. | ___ 4. Claire doesn't like sweet and salty foods together. |
| ___ 2. Americans like peanuts and peanut butter. | ___ 5. Charlotte doesn't like any French foods. |
| ___ 3. Hot dogs and hamburgers are more popular than peanut butter. | ___ 6. Claire likes snails. |