Living in the Ice Age

I'm a scientist and I arrived here in Antarctica three months ago in December. The temperature is cold but not unpleasant yet. Since arriving, I've worked with about 60 other people getting everything ready for the Antarctic winter. It's been a lot of hard work, but it was fun too. However, a few days ago the ship left taking most of the staff with it, and it won't be back to fetch us until next December. So the hardest thing to get used to is that there are now just fourteen of us because I'm used to working in a large company.

I'm living on the same work station I was on ten years ago. It was new then and it's still in good condition and unchanged. The dried food we get is also the same - you forget what real food tastes like after a few weeks. The people working here with me are all different from then, but I'm always happy getting to know new people. Ten years ago, we were able to send taxes to friends and family once a month, but today we can send e-mails and talk on the phone so we don't feel so far away.

Last week we went out exploring for a few days. We slept in our very thick sleeping bags to keep the cold out. We always have to wear the right clothes and boots for walking on ice and snow. We were joined together by a rope all the time in case we fell into any holes in the ice. They're too deep to climb out of. The skies were clear and I was reminded how lucky I am to be here. Soon we will get amazing sunsets too.

Question 7: What is the writer trying to do?

- ☐ persuade people to work in Antarctica
- ☐ complain about his life in Antarctica
- ☐ describe his own experiences in Antarctica
- ☐ suggest ways of improving life in Antarctica

Question 8: What is difficult for the winter at the moment?

- ☐ He is working with a small number of people.
- ☐ There is too much work to do.
- ☐ The weather is too cold.
- ☐ The ship won't return for months.

Question 9: In writer's opinion, what has improved since ten years ago?

- ☐ The living accommodation is better.
- ☐ The food is tastier.
- ☐ Communications have improved.
- ☐ His colleagues are easier to work with.

Question 10:

What particular danger was there when they were exploring?

- ☐ the cold
- ☐ the holes in the ice
- ☐ getting lost
- ☐ slipping on the ice

Question 11

Which of the following e-mails did the writer send to a friend?

- ☐ I'm getting used to being in Antarctica. Although people had told me what it was like, it's still a shock to experience it myself.
- ☐ There hasn't been much to do here yet, so I've spent the time getting to know my colleagues and relaxing.
- ☐ It's good to be back here. I'd forgotten how beautiful it is. I'm looking forward to seeing some wonderful sunsets.
- ☐ I'll send you my news as often as I can. It won't be long till I'm home, as I've already been here nearly a year.

Question 14-18. Read the passage, then choose the best answer to each the question below.

We want to be stars!

by Georgia Broom

I'm in a rock band called The Pink Stars with two other girls from school. We didn't really know each other before we started playing four months ago, but now we're great friends. We've all been in other bands before and love rock music. Finding a place to practice is a problem, but we're lucky because my parents don't mind if we use a room in our house two or three times a week.

On Saturday afternoons, we usually do different things than our friends from school. Instead of going to the cinema or a café, we give a concert in a large music shop in town. It's great fun! We really enjoy choosing what we'll wear. Sometimes we go shopping for something special a day or two before we play.

When we started giving concerts, only our families came to see us. But soon, our brothers and sisters started inviting their friends. We felt a bit shy when some classmates came to see us, but we were pleased when they loved our music. Now other people are beginning to come to the shop just to listen to us! We're becoming famous.

This summer we're going to play at our first open-air rock concert. It'll be wonderful to be on a stage in front of all those people. I can't wait!

I sing and play the guitar. I can also play the keyboard, but I don't like it very much. Rachel plays the drums and Annie plays the guitar and keyboard. We've written seven of our own songs to upload to our channel. We've also got our own website, so to learn more about The Pink Stars, visit www.pinkstars.com. It has all the information about our concerts.
