

READ THE CONVERSATION AND CHOOSE THE BEST ANSWERS

Nick: There are so many pieces of pottery here, Phong. Do your grandparents make all of them?

Phong: They can't because we have lots of products. They make some and other people make the rest.

Nick: As far as I know, Bat Trang is one of the most famous traditional craft villages of Ha Noi, right?

Question 1: What are there in the workshop?

.....

Question 2: Do Phong's grandparents make all of the pottery?

.....

Question 3: Why can't Phong's grandparents make all the pottery?

.....

Question 4: What is the most famous traditional village in Ha Noi?

.....

Phong: Right. My grandmother says it's about 700 years old.

Mi: Wow! When did your grandparents set up this workshop?

Phong: My great-grandparents started it, not my grandparents. Then my grandparents took over the business. All the artisans here are my aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Question 5: How old is the workshop?

.....

Question 6: Did Phong's grandparents set up the workshop?

.....

Question 7: Who set up the workshop?

.....

Question 8: Who are the artisans?

.....

Mi: I see. Your village is also a place of interest of Ha Noi, isn't it?

Phong: Yes. People come here to buy things for their house. Another attraction is they can make pottery themselves in workshops.

Nick: That must be a memorable experience.

Question 9: What can people do in this place of interest?

.....

Question 10. Can people try to make pottery in the workshop?

.....

Phong: In Viet Nam there are lots of craft villages like Bat Trang. Have you ever been to any others?

Mi: I've been to a conical hat making village in Hue!

Nick: Cool! This is my first one. Do you think that the various crafts remind people of a specific region?

Mi: Sure. It's the reason tourists often choose handicrafts as souvenirs.

Phong: Let's go outside and look round the village.

Question 11. Are there many craft villages in Bat Trang?

.....

Question 12. What famous handicraft can you find in Hue?

.....