WRITING TASK

Writing task

Write an instant message to a friend. Read Jenny's instant message below and write a reply to her.

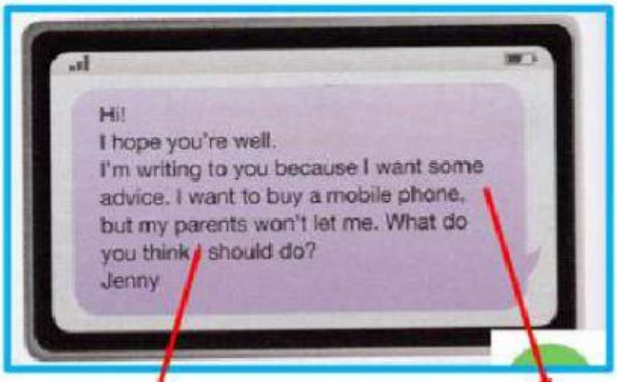

Plan Make notes for the main paragraph of your instant message. Give an example of a similar situation and say what happened. Then advise Jenny what she should do.

Write Write your instant message. Use your notes and the instant message in exercise 1 to help you. Start your instant message like this:

Hi Jenny,
Sorry to hear about your problem.

Check Check your writing.

- ☑ verbs – spelling
- ☑ verbs – tense
- ☑ verbs – agreement with subject
- ☑ verbs – word order

What is the message about?

What Jenny should do?

Why Jenny should have a handphone? (the reasons)

Look at the 5W1H that can be found in the message- so you should respond the "wh" questions from the message

5W1H- What- Why- When- Who- Where- How do you feel? & How to do it?

#Remember! Not all of the "wh" questions can be applied during answering/ writing a message

Hi Jenny,

Sorry to hear about your problem. _____

Rearrange the answer to fill in the instant message column

I hope these ideas can help you to convince your parent. Good Luck Jenny.

Secondly, you could also let them know that you must have your own phone so you will not left behind for the lesson that thought by teacher.

Regards
Julia

Can't wait to hear from you. See you soon.

I also experienced the same situation.
But I told my parents the reasons for me to have a handphone.

Next, you can tell them that you will use your own saving to buy the phone.

First, I think you can tell them that you really need it for your homework especially during this MCO has to learn using the phone and laptop.
