Fisherman His The Wife and

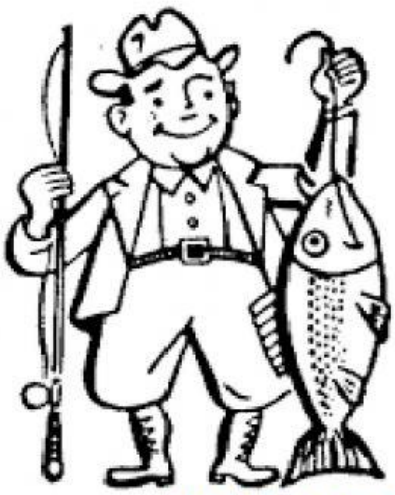

By Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm

Once upon a time a fisherman and his wife lived in a small, dirty shack near the ocean. One day while he was out fishing, the fisherman caught a big fish. The fish said to him, "Please let me live. I am an enchanted prince. Put me back in the water and let me go"

When the fisherman arrived home, his wife asked, "Did you catch anything today?" "Yes," said the man. "I caught a big fish, but he told me that he was an enchanted prince, so I let him go." "And what did you ask for in return?" said the woman. "Nothing," said the fisherman. "Nothing!" shouted his wife angrily. "Go back to the ocean at once!" "But what should I ask for?" said the fisherman.
