Color

The world is full of color. Look around you – colors are everywhere. The sky, trees, flowers, and animals have natural colors. There are also colors in our clothes, and in the things we use in our homes. Some colors are bright; others are dull. Some colors are dark and others are light.

Colors can affect our feelings. Some colors make us feel cool and calm. These “cool colors” are blue and green. Other colors make us feel warm. Red and orange are warm colors. Colors that are very dark often make us feel unhappy, and light colors give us a calm feeling.

There are many expressions in English which use color words. Here are a few of them:

“When he hit me, I saw red.” (I became very very angry.)

“When I am far away from my family, I feel blue.” (I feel unhappy.)

"That boy won't fight; he's yellow." (He is not brave; he is afraid to do it.)

"When I saw her new bicycle, I turned green with envy." (I wanted it very much; I was jealous)
