

The telephone in the store rings and Mr. Charles answers

Mr. Charles: Hello! Good morning. Appliance Centre, how many I help?

Mavis: Good morning. Who am I speaking to?

Mr. Charles: I am Charles and it is my pleasure to serve you. You are?

Mavis: Well Mr. Charles, I have a complaint and I want to speak to the boss. I bought a bag of flour at your place yesterday and when I opened it I found a dead rat in it!

Mr. Charles: Sorry...but

Mavis: You wait there mister! All you could say is sorry? You know what is a rat? You know about the kind of diseases rats spread? You could have killed my family! What would have happened if I did not find the rat?

Mr. Charles: Madam I...

Mavis: Give me a chance! I said I want to speak to the boss. I want to let him know exactly how disgusted I feel. There is no sorry in this. When I am finish with this matter I will sue you all for every dollar.

Mr. Charles: Sorry I think...

Mavis: Like you don't understand. Give me a chance to speak. Why are you interrupting me? I will tell your boss that you are also rude to the customers.

Mr. Charles: Madam I think...

Mavis: Think! Think! Think! Stop thinking and start talking. I wonder how many people you have already killed. How many people would have become infected with Leptospirosis? You are all murders! Yes, murders! I will see to it that you all are closed down by the relevant authority. I will call the District Health Authority. They are sure to send a Health Inspector to close down your nasty place that's breeding rats.

(Mr. Charles begins to laugh)

Mavis: You think this is a big joke! People are dying from Leptospirosis and you are laughing? What kind of heartless beast are you? You don't care about the poor because you have money?

Mr. Charles: Madam! Madam! Madam! This is an appliance store. We don't sell flour. Madam_____.

Mavis hangs up the phone.
