Punctuation Mark

In each of the following sentences, only one type of punctuation mark is missing. Fill in the missing punctuation mark with the punctuation marks below!

Drag and drop into the right sentence!

A question mark follows What?When?Why?and How?

Do you? Can I? Shall we? Give us an answer now

Use a full stop to mark the end

It closes every sentence penned

These two dots are a colon:Colons pause to compare

They also do this: list,explain and prepare

The comma is for short pauses and breaks

And also for lists the writer makes

An apostrophe shows the owner of anyone's things

And its also useful for shortenings

Example : Wow! I hadn't expected this at all.

Rule : To show strong feelings use an exclamation mark!

1. I have decided not to go for the trip.

   Rule : _____

   _____

2. He didn't ask for more money, did he?

   Rule : _____

   _____

3. It's not what you say that's important, it's what you do.

   Rule : _____

   : _____

4. Here's what I'd like to take with me: a sleeping bag, an inflatable pillow and some insect repellent.

   Rule : _____

   _____

5. He looked at me for a long time, too long for my comfort, before he spoke.

   Rule : _____

   _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS