Our guest blogger Simon tells us what some stars of music and movies did in the past.

Before they were STARS

Most celebrities spend their days doing really cool and exciting things. But their lives weren't always so interesting. In fact, some celebrities had very normal jobs before they were famous.

In 2000, Hugh Jackman played the part of Wolverine in X-Men. The movie was very successful, and he was the star of eight more X-Movies in the 2000s and the 2010s. But Hugh had other jobs before he was an actor. When he was only eighteen he moved to England from Australia. He was a teacher in a very expensive school. His students liked him very much, but after a year he moved back to Australia.

These days everyone knows Lady Gaga for her music, her amazing shows, and her interesting clothes. She sells millions of records and she works for a lot of charities. On December 11, 2015, people chose her as the "Woman of the Year, 2015". But before she was famous, when she was in school, she worked as a waitress near her home in New York. She says she wanted the money to buy an expensive purse!

When Kanye West was a teenager, he worked in a clothing store. He liked the clothes, but he didn't enjoy the job. And he didn't make much money. In fact, he didn't earn enough money to buy the clothes in the store! Today he is one of the most famous musicians in the world and makes millions and millions of dollars. In 2015, his company started selling clothes. And they're not cheap!

Jennifer Hudson is a very famous actress and singer. She was the star of the movie Dreamgirls in 2006. But her first job was at a Burger King restaurant in Chicago. She started work in the restaurant when she was sixteen. Everyone says she liked to sing a lot at work! In 2007, Burger King called Jennifer to say she never needs to pay for food – she gets free food for life!
