1 We use a / an

- to say what something is or what job people do.
- in expressions of frequency.

2 We use the

- when the speaker and hearer know the thing we are talking about: Close the window = the one that is open.
- when there is only one of something: the internet, the sun, etc.
- before superlative adjectives: the biggest, the best, etc.

3 We often use a the first time we mention a person or thing and then the the next time because it is now clear who or what we are talking about.

4 We don't usually use the

- when we talk about people or things in general:
Men are more interested in sport than women. (general)
The women in this class work harder than the men. (specific)
- before possessive 's. She's my mother's cousin. NOT She's the my mother's cousin.
- with the following:
meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner, etc.
