

READING NUMBER 8!

Good morning all!

My mum was yesterday doing the shopping list and I told her that I'd like a melon so that I could have some for breakfast. However, when she got home from the groceries, she had forgotten the melon!!!!!!!!!!!!

I told her not to worry because I could go for it. In the evening, I went to the groceries too to have some melon. I would like some melon and some potatoes too, I told the shop assistant.

I wanted the potatoes to make an omelette with onion and eggs. I added some cheese to the omelette! It was fantastic. My parents liked it a lot.

Are you cooking these days? I hope so!
