Write the Notes in your Notebook or Exercise Book

Agriculture Science

Animals their young, homes and uses.

The hen and the chicken

The hen has a chicken. A chicken hatches from an egg. Hens and chickens live in a pen or a hen house. The hen gives us eggs and meat.

The cow and the calf

The cow lives in a shed. The cow eats grass. A young cow is called a calf. The cow gives us milk and meat. The meat is called beef.

The pig and the piglet

The pig lives in a pig sty. A young pig is called a piglet. Some people eat the pig's meat. We call it pork. Bacon is made from the pig's meat.

The horse and the foal

The horse helps the farmer in the fields. A young horse is called a foal. The horse lives in a stable.

The rabbit and the bunny

A young rabbit is called a bunny. The rabbit lives in a hutch. It can be kept as a pet or for its meat.

The sheep and the lamb

The sheep lives in a sheep-fold or sheep pen. The sheep eats grass. A young sheep is called a lamb. The sheep gives us milk, wool and meat. The meat is called mutton.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

The duck and the duckling

The duck lives on the farm or in the pond. It likes to splash in the water. A young duck is called a duckling. Ducks give us eggs and meat.

The dog and the puppy

The dog is a domestic animal. A young dog is called a puppy. It sleeps in a kennel. The dog can be kept as a pet.

The cat and the kitten

The cat is also a domestic animal and it is kept as a pet. A young cat is called a kitten. The cat catches mice.

The bird and the nestling

The bird lives in the nest. Some birds live in a cage. The bird eats insects. A young bird is called a nestling.

The fish

The fish lives in the sea or rivers. It can live in an aquarium also. A young fish is called a fry. Fish can be kept as pets. We eat fish.

The goat and the kid

The goat lives in a goat-shed or goat pen. The goat eats vines, grass or anything plant with leaves. A young goat is called a kid. The goat gives us milk and meat.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

LIVEWORKSHEETS