COMPARATIVE ADJECTIVES

1. Read the text carefully. Then write the correct name in the picture.

There are two species of camel. They're called dromedary and Bactrian camels. Dromedaries have got one hump. They live in the Sahara in Africa. The Sahara is hot. Domedaries' hair is short and they have got long legs. They can rut at 40 kilometres an hour. Bactrian camels have got two humps. They live in the Gobi Desert in Asia. The Gobi is very cold in winter, it's colder than the Sahara. Bactrian camels have got longer hair than dromedaries. They've got shorter legs and they are slower.

2. Read the sentences and choose the correct adjective.

a) Dromedaries are _____ than Bactrian camels (faster/slower).

b) Dromedaries have got _____ hair than Bactrian camels (longer/shorter).

c) The Gobi Desert is _____ than the Sahara desert (hotter/colder).

d) Dromedaries have got _____ legs than Bactrian camels (longer/shorter).

3. Write 3 things you have learnt from camels today.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS