

Who talks about the following things?
Put P for Patti, e for Eric, or L for Lewis.

- a being broke
- b soccer
- c happiness
- d being practical
- e a quarter a week
- f toy soldiers

Patti, Eric, and Lewis then answered two more questions. underline the correct alternative for each highlighted money expression in their answers.

Who do you think gave each answer?

Question 1: Does it matter if a wife earns more than her husband? How would you handle it?

- | | | |
|--|--|---|
| a "I would feel like a failure if my wife earned more than I did. It's a man's job to earn a life / living, and a woman's place is in the home." | b "It wouldn't worry me. I know lots of couples where the woman is the main breadwinner / breadbasket. In fact, it would be really good to have a wife who was loaded / full up." | c "It wouldn't matter to me, but it might matter to my husband. It shouldn't matter, but human nature being what it is, it probably would." |
|--|--|---|

Question 2: If you were given $1,000 to save, spend, or invest, what would you do?

- | | | |
|---|---|---|
| a "Uh, the sensible thing to do would be to save it for a rainy / windy day or pay off my debt / debit, but I think I'd rather splash out / across on a family vacation." | b "Well, I certainly wouldn't save or invest it - I'd probably throw / blow it on a new music system and some massive speakers." | c "I think I'd be tempted to get a new computer. Mine's getting a little slow. You can get them for peanuts / doughnuts these days, you know ..." |
|---|---|---|