IT'S HALLOWEEN TONIGHT

Circle the correct word

A long time / light ago on Halloween night under the glow of the full moon's light.
A group of children out to trick or treat / freak .
Find themselves locked out of the House of Sweets.
The three keys that will open the door were stolen by creatures never / forever seen here before.
A witch, a vampire and skeleton / monster pirates.
Someone must be brave enough to go out and find them.

(Chorus) Run, run, run. Don't let them get you when the blue / moon is bright.
It's Halloween fight / tonight.
Run, run, run. Before they get you when the moon is bright.
It's Halloween fight / tonight.

When every living thing is hiding in the silent night.
You hear a cry / ghost (screams).
Her eyes are fire flames, but her heart is cold as ice / rice.
Hear my advice or you pay the price.
Smelly robe and pointy hat / bat. Greenish skin and spooky cat. Chanting spells in a high pitch.
Holy cow, she's a wizard / witch!

Chorus

Though you can barely see, just for a moment / second you believe.
There's something in the air.
In the midnight hour, he comes to trail you in disguise.
Open your eyes / mouth. He's got appetite.
Pale as the moon and quick as a bat / vampire. Fangs so long they could poke through ten cats / hats. He hides in the shadows like a big tarantula. Run for your life! It's Count / Skeleton Dracula!

Chorus

The skeletons, the skeletons / tombstones.
Their bones can shake like gelatin.
And if you hear a clickety-clack, you better run and don't turn / go back.

Chorus
