

GEOCACHING

Mary: Hi, John!

John: Hi, Mary! What are you looking for?

Mary: I'm looking for a treasure.

John: Really? Is there a treasure here, in the park?

Mary: It's not really a treasure. It's a cache. The game is called Geocaching. I am looking for a black plastic box.

John: What is it like? And what's inside the cache?

Mary: In this case it's a small box. There are many little things inside. People hide little plastic presents that you can exchange for other presents when you find the box. You must also sign a little book inside the box. It's called the logbook.

John: Do many people play this game?

Mary: There are millions of people playing this game around the world. It's very popular.

John: What do you need to play Geocaching?

Mary: You need a modern mobile phone or a GPS receiver to find the treasure.

John: How you know where to look for?

Mary: You need to open a free account to get the coordinates and write a few words about your find. It's easy!

John: Can children play the game?

Mary: Of course. Everybody can play the game.

John: Why do you enjoy Geocaching so much?

Mary: Because it's easy, very addictive, you meet lots of new people and see lots of new places.

John: How many caches did you find last year?

Mary: Many, over five hundred.

John: Thanks, Mary. Can I help you find this cache?

Mary: Of course. Look! Here it is!

John: What's inside! Let me see! Look, there's a logbook, a little red car, a black pen and some football cards.

Mary: Thanks for helping me. Now, let's sign the logbook!
