

Fill in the blanks with suitable words

Respiratory	Lacking	pastime	Activities
advances	improved	Wind	coordination

- 1) There are both anecdotal and statistic evidence for in both social and academic skills in children exposed in their formative years to the music of Mozart.
- 2) Compared to academic subjects, Music is regarded as an unimportant
- 3) Children are leaving school not only totally ignorant of their own musical heritage, but also in social, physical and mental skills which music performances can promote.
- 4) Playing musical instruments requires a degree of concentration andwhich brings into play a plethora of mental and physical skills.
- 5) In excelling in musical activities, the students' performance in many other fields of learning is significantly as
- 6) Playing some musical instruments such the flute or the clarinet can also help people overcome some health problems such as problems and encouraged better sleep.
- 7) Musical such as singing or passing a ball along with the music can also help bring people closer together.