LET'S CHECK GRAMMAR

FUTURE TENSE: WILL

USE	STRUCTURE	EXAMPLES
• Predictions about the future. • Instant decisions.	Will + verb	• I will eat. • He will eat. • I'll study. • She'll study.	• I won't eat. • He won't eat. • I won't study. • She won't study.	• Will I eat? • Will he eat? • Will you study? • Will she study?

FUTURE TENSE: GOING TO

USE	STRUCTURE	EXAMPLES
• Predictions • Something already planned. • Intentions	am / is /are + going to + verb	• I am going to eat. • He is going to eat. • I'm gonna eat. • She's gonna eat.	• I am not going to eat. • He is not going to eat. • I'm not going to eat. • She's not going to eat.	• Am I going to eat? • Is he going to eat? • Are we going to eat?

1. Use "will" or "going to" to complete the following sentences.

   a. Students _____ (visit) the museum next week.

   b. My father _____ (be) 50 in May.

   c. My sister is unemployed, she _____ (apply) for some option.

   d. I _____ (move) to the university next year.

   e. My sister _____ (marry), my parents are very happy.

   f. It is very dark and cloudy, it _____ (rain).

   g. I'm hungry, I _____ (buy) some food.

   h. The teacher _____ (help) next quarter, she promised.

2. Complete the sentences using the negative form of "will" and "going to".

   a. I think that artist _____ become famous in Europe.

   b. I believe she _____ date Thomas again.

   c. Students _____ get in trouble after that mess.

   d. Jeff _____ have problems to make new friends.

   e. Steven _____ invite more than 50 people to the party.

   f. Daniel _____ dance in the arts festival.

LIVEWORKSHEETS