Your questions asked.

This week, the actor Harry Lord.

So, Harry, welcome to Meet the Stars. You're here today to answer a few questions about your life as an actor. Here's the first question.

Why did you ¹ take up acting?

Well, ² _____ I left school, I ³ _____ to university, in Cambridge. It's the most wonderful university in Britain but I hated it. Then, one day, ⁴ _____ I was walking to a lecture, I ⁵ _____ an advert for the theatre drama group. I went to the next meeting and, amazingly, I discovered that I was good at acting and I enjoyed it.

Where did you ⁶ _____ up?

In a small, boring town called Littlefun about fifty kilometres from London. I lived there until I went to university.

Why didn't you ⁷ _____ up to the Oscars last year?

Ah, well. When I heard that one of my films might win, I ⁸ _____ a film in Vietnam. I had to stay there until everything was finished. I ⁹ _____ up flights on the Internet and I booked a ticket from Vietnam to Los Angeles. We finally finished filming the night before my flight. There was a party to celebrate the end of filming and I didn't get to bed until 6 a.m.! The hotel receptionist forgot to ¹⁰ _____ me up. I was still asleep when my plane left. When my film ¹¹ _____ the Oscar for best film, I ¹² _____ in the airport. I watched the Oscars on a small TV, in Vietnamese!
