

Summative Evaluation on Term II

I. Read the text and choose True or False – 7 points.

One basic rule about swimming is that you shouldn't eat a lot before you go swimming. You should wait about an hour after a meal.

Another important thing is that you should warm up in the water before you start swimming. You shouldn't warm up and get hot, and then jump into a swimming-pool.

When you are warming up you should do a lot of stretching exercises for your legs and arms. When it's not very hot you should put your clothes immediately after swimming, because you can easily get a cold.

Often you can lose a lot of water when you are swimming so you should drink lots of water after swimming.

You should eat lots of food that gives you energy. That means that you should eat things like potatoes and pasta.
