C2.1 Unit 2 Listening

She recommends ..... if you go to Spain.

According to her, Spaniards eat ..... than people from the United States.

For ....., meals are considered an event. They even close shops .....

with the aim of eating together in families.

While in Japan, she tried everything in order not to offend anyone, from ..... to

.....

Speaker 2 considers himself a stereotypical .....

He can be in Times Square after walking just ..... from his loft.

Because of his job in ....., his day is filled with meetings and social events; therefore, it was ..... for him spending his ..... in Hawaii where even though he enjoyed the scenery, he actually had to ..... to do so as not to feel bored.

According to Speaker 3, Canadian's roads are full of ..... issues, however, you will never run across a bull in the middle of the road as he experienced in .....

He thinks the ..... of those animals are deadly and he considers himself lucky for not having worn a red sweater. He mentioned that it is ..... to run over a turtle in

.....

Being ..... for a small town in rural Alberta, she was once assigned to cover a Pow Wow at the ..... Indian reserve.

She felt a little bit nervous at first for being the only ..... at the event.

They ate some typical dishes like bannock and rice, however, she didn't feel quite satisfied with the special soup made of .....-It took her ..... to actually swallow that soup.

She comes from a family of ..... who arrived in the US on October 31. For them, ... is not a common holiday. They were surprised and kind of scared seeing people dressed up in ..... carrying jack-o-lanterns, singing and ..... doors during that holiday.

Speaker 6 believes Fiji is a ....., especially because of the beautiful ..... and comfortable and inviting ..... Nevertheless, there is a lot of ..... outside the resort they were staying in. They were invited to spend some time with one of the ..... in order to witness a blessing ceremony. Also, they met a ..... who was carving traditional Fijian ..... that were both beautiful and deadly.

LIVEWORKSHEETS