Predicting Outcomes

Read the Story. Follow the directions.

Last Friday at lunchtime huge, gray clouds filled the sky and the thunder shook the windows. No one could go outside to play. The students were disappointed. They hoped that they would all get a chance to try out the new swing set.

Mrs. Mason told her class to stay inside and select an activity. They could choose whatever they liked. Eve got a page and some crayons. Yale and Joe took seats in front of the computers. Lily and Ty sat on the rug in the library. Owen grabbed some paint and brushes. Miles and Sue carried some blocks to their table. Soon, everyone was excited to enjoy some indoor fun.

Use clues in the text and your prior knowledge. Match each student's name in column A, to predict what happened next in column B. [5]
