Yet or just?

verb

done

Written

started

revised (means to review, or to study for)

finished

Handed in (to give to)

Molly: Have you [ ] your Maths homework [ ]?

Sam: No, not [ ]. It's really hard. Have you done yours?

Molly: Yes, I've [ ] [ ] it.

Sam: How about English?
Have you [ ] that composition [ ]?

Molly: Yes, I've [ ] [ ] it in. Have you done yours?

Sam: No, not yet.
And I haven't [ ] my Art project [ ]

Molly: What about our Science homework?
Have you [ ] that?

Sam: No, not yet. And I haven't [ ] for the test.

Molly: Test? What test?

Sam: Don't worry! I'm only joking ... Or am I ...?

LIVEWORKSHEETS