

Yet or just?

verb

done

Written

started revised (means to review, or to study for)

finished

Handed in (to give to)

Molly: Have you [redacted] your Maths homework [redacted]?

Sam: No, not [redacted]. It's really hard. Have you done yours?

Molly: Yes, I've [redacted] it.

Sam: How about English?

Have you [redacted] that composition [redacted]?

Molly: Yes, I've [redacted] it in. Have you done yours?

Sam: No, not yet.

And I haven't [redacted] my Art project [redacted]

Molly: What about our Science homework?

Have you [redacted] that?

Sam: No, not yet. And I haven't [redacted] for the test.

Molly: Test? What test?

Sam: Don't worry! I'm only joking ... Or am I ...?