Report: William Watson

William Watson sometimes seems to be afraid of (1) hard. He can't help (2) to avoid (3) anything that involves (4) his brain, particularly on Friday afternoons. He seems to detest (5) life seriously, and pretends he isn't capable of (6) anything of worth. This is unfortunate as, with a little more effort, William could succeed in (7) great progress. However, at present he frequently just wants (8) the fool. He enjoys (9) jokes. Presumably, he imagines this (10) the best way to make friends, but in fact he often just ends up preventing the other students from (11) He has promised on several occasions (12) his behaviour in class, but then he just keeps on (13) in exactly the same way. Recently, I have had to beg him (14) and be quiet in the classroom, but it's difficult to know how to make him (15) to his senses. He just doesn't seem interested in (16) to my opinion. I'm tempted to give up even (17) that he might improve. Having said that though, Mr Watson is an extremely good maths teacher!

Approaches to learning

People appear (1) in different ways. Some people expect (2) mistakes in their studies and are capable of (3) from their mistakes. They don't mind (4) by their teacher and indeed often ask (5) corrected.

Others, however, dislike (6) mistakes. They try to avoid (7) anything which they might do badly. They would rather (8) something in small steps and be sure they have got it right (9) attempt to do a task based on a subject they don't feel they have finished (10) yet.

Both ways of learning seem (11) equally valid, but a combination of the two may be the best solution. In (12) to learn effectively, students have to remember (13) risks sometimes. But they also have to feel comfortable and secure with what they're doing so (14) not to become demotivated. All students should at least think about (15) the way that they approach learning.
