Dear son,

In school you will probably meet people who may seem different from you. One may be of different colour, _____ of a different religion or culture. Another may be very _____ or short, or heavy or very _____. There may be someone who has trouble learning, another who's a math wiz, and yet another who is _____ picked on by others.

In your dealings with all these _____, try to be _____ to their feelings. For no matter how different a person may seem to you on the _____, underneath is simply another human much like you whose _____ beats and who feels joys or sorrow, the same as yours and

LIVEWORKSHEETS

_____. Try your _____ to understand that person and help her or him when you can. You have been _____ to be raised by people who love you deeply and _____ you no matter how grumpy you are. Now it's your _____ to share the _____ you have received from others.

LIVEWORKSHEETS