

Complete with a word or short phrase: (NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS)

Diana Mcleod is a ..... at the University of Blackstable who will talk about workplace .....

According to the results of a ..... in which participants have to rate how ..... they were in different careers, it was quite ..... to see how teaching was considered ..... job way ahead of .....

When it comes to what makes people unhappy at work the ..... are long hours or commute as well as ..... and job insecurity. Also, the fact of ..... from friends and family is considered ..... somehow.

It is more likely for big companies to experience ..... while in small businesses employees experience a higher level of .....

In terms of becoming ....., it's necessary to take ..... the boundaries between work and leisure, people for sure will end up working harder, but they probably wouldn't mind doing that since they will be in control of .....

Money, normally in the form of a bonus or a ..... might make someone feel happy, but juts if the person feel it's well deserved; otherwise, it will .....

It is believed that happy people are successful at work and that could be the reason why they at some point were ..... by their employers.

Feeling valued and knowing that a positive difference is being made is paramount in the workplace, but doing our job without caring about the money is .....