

No.

b. false

6. Carbon dioxide is taken into the leaves through the stomata.

a. true

b. false

7. Excess glucose is converted to starch and stored.

a. true

b. false

8. The substance that makes the leaves green that traps the energy of the sun is called chloroplasts.

a. true

b. false

9. During photosynthesis, the gas that is used up to produce glucose is called carbon dioxide.

a. true

b. false

10. During photosynthesis, the plants produced this gas that is needed by animals is called oxygen.

a. true

b. false