Exercise 5: Read about William and his friends. Complete the sentences with the correct adjectives.

Hello, my name's William. I'm an engineer and I work for a big company. I know lots of people at work and some of them are also my friends. My best friend is called Eddie. We work in the same office. For me, it's boring/ friendly to wait while someone chooses lots of clothes, so I normally sit and play games on my mobile phone while I wait for her. That's much more interesting/ sad! My other friends are all very different. John, for example, hates doing sport and is only funny/ happy when he's at home reading a book or watching TV. Another friend, called Dave, is a really nice guy who loves going out with friends. Dave hasn't got a job and he doesn't want one, because he doesn't like working. He's very interesting/ lazy. Marta is my sister's best friend. She's very friendly/ sad so loves chatting for hours on the internet. She has hundreds of online friends.

Exercise 4: Read the postcard from Tom to his friend Adam. Choose True or False.

Dear Adam,

Hello from Coconut Island! I am having a brilliant time relaxing on the beach with my aunt and uncle and my brother. It's a shame that my parents aren't here – they had to stay at home and work. The beach has beautiful white sand, palm trees and clear blue water. I went swimming this morning, and the water was lovely. It wasn't too cold. There are a lot of different activities to do on the beach. Yesterday morning me and my brother tried surfing. He was much better than me, but I still enjoyed it. My favorite activity was the boat trip yesterday afternoon. We saw dolphins and a lot of colorful fish. Yesterday evening, we had dinner in a restaurant next to the beach and ate fish. I usually don't like fish, but the food at the restaurant was delicious!

See you next week.

Best wishes,

Tom
