SUBTOPIC: Holy Holidays

PRESENTIAL WORK - PART ONE

Video of the Ecuadorian festivals.

1. Read this article about holidays in Spain and in Ecuador.

Culture

Holidays are a nice opportunity to get together with family and friends. People take advantage these days off to relax at home, to do some sports or travel to other cities. The most important thing is to do something fun.

How do you usually spend your holidays? Where do you spend them? Who do you spend them with? The answers to those questions depend on where you are from, that is, your nationality.

For example, Ecuadorian people often spend their holidays with their families, whereas people from Spain frequently prefer to spend their holidays with their friends. The holidays in Ecuador, of course, are different from other countries. Even in Ecuador there are local holidays which other cities don't celebrate. These days off are because of some specific celebrations in a region.

For instance, on December 6th Quito celebrates its foundation and on July 25th Guayaquil celebrates its founding date.

Other national holidays are in January 1st, May 1st, November 2nd, among others. On these days, people look forward visiting other places for fun or relatives.

In Spain, there are some similar holidays, but they celebrate different festivities also. On December 6th, they celebrate the day of the Spanish Constitution. The Day of Death is in November 1st. Regardless of what the festivity is, the important thing is to have fun and relax.

Ford: Lucky you! What do people from Quito usually do during the first week of December?

David: The people frequently organize Handmade Wooden Cart Races, decorate all the streets, and ride crazy party buses at night. You know, the so-called Chivas.
