

Look at the website below then answer the questions.

1. Who is the person searching for?
2. What does the searcher know about the person he/she wants to find?
3. What doesn't the searcher know?

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying "http://www.frenzfinder.com". The website has a blue header with the "Frenzfinder" logo and a small photo of a group of people. Below the header, there is a search form with the following fields: "First name: Karen", "City: ", "Last name: Smith", and "Other: 25, Lincoln High School, nurse, skiing". A "Search!" button is to the right of the "Other" field. Below the search form, the results are displayed under the heading "Results for Karen Smith". The results are in a table with five columns: Name, Age, Locations, Friends/relatives, and Hobbies, job, etc.

Name	Age	Locations	Friends/relatives	Hobbies, job, etc.
Karen S. Smith	19	New York, NY; Los Angeles, CA	Alan Smith, Mary Smith, and more...	student, video games, Lincoln High School
K. Smith	25	New York, NY; Lincoln, NE	P. Smith, Anna Chang, and more...	nurse, Palm High School, skiing
Karen Smith Wells	24	Los Angeles, CA; Philadelphia, PA	Tina Wells, Mark Cross	doctor, married, skiing

Now read the information below. Then read the website above again. Decide which is the correct person and why. Discuss your answer with a partner.

I'm searching for my friend Karen Smith. We went to Lincoln High School together. We were neighbors in Los Angeles, CA. Some of our friends were Tina Sanchez, Mark Cross, and Kelly Ling. I think Karen lives in New York now, but I'm not sure. She's my age, so I think she's about 25 years old. She wanted to be a nurse. She really liked skiing.

Knowing different kinds of information can help you find the correct person. Write your information below.

Full name:

Present city: Past city:

Occupation: Employer:

School (present and past):