

A 20-year old, well-built and healthy, has a seemingly irrational fear of mice. The fear makes him tremble at the sight of a mouse or rat. He often finds himself in embarrassing situations because of the fear.	An officer always scolds and insults his coworkers for their mistakes and never approves their effort.
A college student never mingles with her friends and is reserved. She feels uncomfortable when interacting with others.	A student gets a small treat if they get 100% on their spelling test. In the future, students work hard and study for their test in order to get the reward.
A student has got illogical thoughts about everything she sees. Her views and opinions are strange. She is always anxious and depressed.	A student suffers from strange behavior that include maladjustment problems with the environment.