

Drag & drop the phrases into the dialogues

1) Alan: Hey Steph, [ ] of the new Terminator film?

Fair enough!

Steph: Well, [ ], it wasn't as good as the older ones. I didn't find the story line believable.

what do you think

Alan: [ ], it was strange.

I suppose

to my mind

2) Nancy: I'm having real trouble reading this book, Ed, my vision is getting worse and worse.

What do you say?

Ed: [ ], wouldn't it help to see if you put your glasses on? [ ]

If you ask me

Nancy: Very funny, but yes, [ ] you're right. I just don't like wearing them!

3) Murray: So, Emily your party has voted against raising wages, [ ]

I'm not sure I agree with it

Emily: Well, I respect their decision but [ ] how do you feel about it?

Murray: What do you mean?

I believe

Emily: Well, [ ] that people work very hard for their money and [ ] they deserve even more than they get at the moment.

I'm concerned

Murray: [ ] with you!

4) Max: They want to start using uniforms in my son's school. What a stupid thing!

I see your point

Anna: Well, [ ], but [ ] it's actually a good idea. Social differences won't be so obvious then and ...

I couldn't agree more

Max: [ ], but what about the personality? Isn't it the essential thing about bringing up children? I mean, letting them be who they are and wear what they like?

Sorry to interrupt you

as for me