Perhaps no emotion is more complex than passion. Passion can show itself in a negative way as a burst of anger, or in a more pleasant way, as love. Passion can engender blind devotion for a lover or plunge a person into despondent misery if he or she feels a lack of reciprocity in the relationship. Passion and love cause innumerable dilemmas, and people constantly seek out ways to understand these emotions, as evidenced by the proliferation of articles, books, talk shows, and Web pages devoted to relationships. Many of these forums have loyal followings and have become cultural fixtures. The endless flow of information and opinions about the complex situations aroused by passion will probably not vanish anytime soon.

1. According to this article, which statement about passion is true?
 - a. It can have good or bad effects.
 - b. It can be easily explained.
 - c. It helps people decide what to do.
 - d. It is irrational.
2. According to the reading, why are there so many books and other works about passion?
 - a. because people want a lot of advice about love
 - b. because many people want to write about their own passion
 - c. because reading about passion is relaxing
 - d. because passion can also show itself as a burst of anger

2. Many foreigners feel that their appearance (stigmatizes / despises) them in this country.
3. Because the president was (obnoxious / contemptuous) of France's opinion long ago, the French are not eager to help him now.
4. Mark (despises / berates) Henry and refuses to see him at all.
5. Turkey's historic (antipathy / shame) toward Greece may be softening with the new generation.

TOEFL Success Read the passage to review the vocabulary you have learned. Answer the questions that follow.

Some radio talk show hosts are masters of obnoxious insults. Callers to such shows should be prepared for humiliation if they dare to disagree with the host's views. The host controls whether the caller can speak, so he can arrogantly berate the caller without allowing the caller to respond. Some shows, especially on AM radio, have hosts who are contemptuous of nearly everyone. They regularly use vitriolic language to stigmatize whole groups of people, such as foreigners, liberals, gays, or women. Some hosts don't actually despise the groups they insult. They simply use antipathy as a form of entertainment, and they seem to feel no shame about the damage they do.

1. Which phrase best describes the author's point of view?
 - a. The author enjoys listening to radio talk shows.
 - b. The author believes talk shows can cause damage.
 - c. The author thinks talk show hosts are disturbing but honest.
 - d. The author argues that hosts are ordinary people just doing their jobs.
2. Which people are often berated on radio talk shows, according to the author?
 - a. hosts
 - b. callers
 - c. listeners
 - d. advertisers
