B. Read the article and write True (T), False (F) or No Information (NI). HOW IMPORTANT IS THE MUSIC IN MOVIES? THE MUSIC BEHIND THE MOVIES

A film score is the music that is specifically written to accompany a particular movie. The music is part of the film's soundtrack, which includes noises and voices. The music is specially designed to go along with the plot of the movie, enhancing the dramatic parts. Scores can be written by one or more composers, and are usually performed by orchestras with live musicians and sung by live vocalists. Scores include all genres of music, from jazz to blues to country to classical to electronic. Sometimes soundtracks of movies incorporate a pop song that is recorded independently. An example of this is the song "My Heart Will Go On", written by James Horner and sung by Canadian singer Celine Dion. It was used in the movie Titanic. Scores go through a long editing process before reaching the final version that you hear in the movie theater. This is a tedious process that involves not only musicians and directors, but also sound engineers. It is such an important part of the movie that there is even a category at the Oscars for Best Original Score.
