

Dates for your calendar

Read what Ranjit says about these special days and write them on the calendar.

JANUARY	FEBRUARY 	MARCH
APRIL	MAY 3rd Ranjit's Birthday	JUNE
JULY	AUGUST	SEPTEMBER
OCTOBER 	NOVEMBER 	DECEMBER

Add some more important dates to the calendar (Easter, Spring holiday, Halloween, your birthday, family and friends' birthdays, etc.).

My birthday: It's on the 3rd of the month before September. This year I am 14.

Christmas Day: It's on the 25th of the last month of the year. We send cards and get presents.

Bonfire Night: It's on the 5th of the month before December. In the park, there is a bonfire and fireworks.

Diwali: It's the Hindu festival of light. This year, it's the month before November. We have a big party.

New Year's Day: It's the first day of the first month of the year. I stay up very late the night before.

Valentine's Day: It's the 14th of the month after January. I'm going to send a card to a girl I like.

Exams start: At school my exams start on the 10th of the month after April. Oh no!

Summer holidays start: School finishes on 24th of the month before August. Yes!!!

Mother's Day: I'm going to send my mum a card in the month before April.

Father's Day: I'm going to send my dad a card in the month after May.