

Broken heart

Jane and Jim were very close friends. They got really well and always looked each other. Sometimes they got with their mates and hung in the city centre. Or Jim came to Jane's place and they listened to their favourite music. But one day Jane saw Jim holding hands with another girl and she got furious. She refused to listen to Jim and they fell Jim wanted to explain everything, but Jane didn't hear and very soon they split They never made and Jane never knew that it was the girl who took Jim's hand, but Jim loved only Jane.
