Visiting Toronto or Montreal?

I'm going to eastern Canada. Which city is a _____ (good) place to visit—Toronto or Montreal?

Reply

Both are interesting cities. Montreal is _____ (old) than Toronto, with some buildings from the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Of course, in Montreal, many people are French speakers because it was a French colony. Many people say that Montreal is _____ (romantic) than Toronto because of its old sections, which seem very like places in Europe.

Toronto is _____ (new) and _____ (modern) than Montreal. It has many skyscrapers and modern buildings. It is also _____ (big)—it has more people. Toronto is also _____ (expensive) than Montreal. There's always lots to do in Toronto. It has a very _____ (large) underground shopping area. It also has a very _____ (tall) structure—the CN Tower. Going to the top is fun!

So which one sounds better to you?
