

BATTLIN' BRADEN

Written by James Asmus with art by Craig Rousseau (pencils and inks) and Andrew Crossley (colors)

Braden considers his hearing aids his superpower: when he puts them in, he feels his world comes alive. But when he learned that not everyone who is hearing impaired can afford hearing aids, he knew he had to help. Made possible through his tireless fundraising efforts, he travels across the world delivering hearing devices, witnessing how lives are transformed when the sound finally comes on.

In BATTLIN' BRADEN, he uses his super powered voice to reach the people who needed to listen to him the most: the people who provided his hearing aids, people watching TV who might want to help, all the way to Guatemala.

Click here to read Comic #6. Then, answer the following questions:

CHOOSE ONE CHARACTER AND EXPLAIN WHY YOU WOULD OR WOULD NOT WANT TO HAVE HIM/HER AS A FRIEND IN REAL LIFE.

IN WHAT WAYS ARE YOU LIKE ANY OF THE CHARACTERS IN THIS COMIC? EXPLAIN.

WHICH CHARACTER WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE IN THIS COMIC? WHY?

