Title: Cought in a storm.

连/时	主角	动词	对象	地/时/怎/因/人/物
	Black clouds	gathered		above us, but
	We	were	too intent	on playing football.
	We	hoped		that
	the clouds	would go away		so that we could continue playing.
	Our hopes	were dashed		when suddenly
	heavy rain	began to pour.
In a few seconds	we	were all soaked		to the skin.

To make matters worst,	lighting	flashed		dangerously close to us.
	The deafening thunder and howling wind	did not help		either.

Title: Caught in the storm.

连/时	主角	动词	对象	地/时/怎/因/人/物
	We	ran towards	a large tree	under which we had parked our bicycles.
	The tree	provided	some shelter from the rain	and
	We	were tempted		to remain under it.
However	we	knew		that it was dangerous to stay under a tree during a thuderstorm.
So	we	got on	our bicycles	and pedalled off.
	There	was	no other shelter	available nearby.

So	I, for one,	decided		to go home.
Since I was already completely wet,	I	might was		well to go home instead to seeking shelter.

Title: Caught in the storm.

连/时	主角	动词	对象	地/时/怎/因/人/物
It was just about the fiercest storm	I	had ever been in.
	The driving rain	made	cycling	difficult as I could not see more that a couple of metres in front of me.
	A car	flashed past	me.
	It	was		too close for comfort.
Perhaps	the driver	did not even see	me.
So	I	thought	it was better to stop somewhere	before I got hit by another car.
Luckily	I	found	a bus-stop	with a roof.

	I	hurried gladly		under the roof even though I had to share it with a dozen other people who were also soaked to the skin.
	It	was		a bit of a squeeze but no one complained.
