

TYPES OF FARMING

- 1. Which of the following correctly signify the importance of Agriculture in India ?
 - A. One-thirds of its population is engaged in agricultural activities.
 - B. Agriculture is a Secondary activity, which produces most of the food that we consume.
 - C. It produces raw material for various industries.
 - D. It provides livelihood for more than 90 % of Indian population

- 2. Which of the following is not an Agro based Industries ?
 - A. Textile Industry
 - B. Chemical Industry
 - C. Dairy Industry
 - D. Leather Goods Industry

- 3. Which of the following products are not exported by India ?
 - A. Tea
 - B. Rice
 - C. Spices
 - D. Coffee

- 4. Which of the following is an age-old economic activity in our country ?
 - A. Industry
 - B. Service
 - C. Artisan
 - D. Agriculture

5. Which of the following is not the characteristic of changing cultivation method ?

- A. Commercialization
- B. Technological know-how
- C. Socio-cultural practices.
- D. Physical Environment

6. How much of India's population is engaged in Agricultural activities

- A. Two third
- B. Half
- C. One third
- D. Almost all

7. Over these years, cultivation methods have changed significantly depending upon the characteristics of

- A. Type of crop
- B. technological know-how
- C. Type of season
- D. Government intervention

8. Farming has varied from subsistence to type.

- A. Intensive
- B. Extensive
- C. Commercial
- D. Plantation