

Bees are insects and so they have six They also have two pairs of wings to fly and a pair of on their head to feel and smell. They have very long tongues so that they can reach the nectar from inside flowers.

Female bees have a poisonous to defend themselves.

