READING

Choose the best answer (A, B, C or D) for each blank to complete the passage

The heart has long been considered (131).....feelings of love dwell. In love songs, throughout the ages, love almost always goes together (132).....the heart. The heart has continuously been viewed (133).....the place where love begins and develops. Even the Bible gives (134).....to love and the heart.

The role of the heart in love must come from what happens to it when a person feels strongly (135).....to someone. The strong feelings (136).....the other person, especially in the early stages of a relationship, have the results that the heart starts beating faster and breathing starts speeding (137).....

According to psychologists, a love relationship is a situation that (138).....a lot of stress and the body reacts to this by getting ready to face the unknown. This has been called the "fight or flight (139)....." meeting danger by fighting it or running away. So with love, the heart accelerates and (140).....becomes quick.

BUILDING CONFIDENCE IN TEENS

Confidence is one's belief in their own ability. Confident people rationally believe they are (141).....of doing things well and therefore aren't afraid to do those things or even (142).....new things. Teens who are confident to grow up have a good (143).....of self and become happy adults. Parents can help teens (144).....their confidence throughout their adolescence by following these tips:

- Be trustworthy. Be there when your teen needs you. Provide a safe home environment and firm but fair discipline. This is a (145).....that your teen's confidence can stand on.
- Give your teen choices. One of the things that confidence helps teens do is making a decision. You can help teens make decision by (146).....then choices as often as possible.
- (147).....your teen to try new things. Be available to take them where they need to go and do so without complaining.
- Become your teen's biggest fan, (148).....it is in sports, or in school.
- Allow your teen to fail, do not fix their problems for them. If they need you to help talk the problem through, as open ended questions so that they (149).....to their own conclusions.
- Praise your teen when praise is suitable. We know that too much praise is not good (150)....., but suitable praise is necessary for your teen's self-confidence.

Read the text and the questions below. For each question choose the correct answer, A, B, C or D.

During the teenage years, many young people can at times be difficult to talk to. They often seem to dislike being questioned. They may seem unwilling to talk about their work in school. This is a normal development at this age, though it can be very hard for parent to understand. It is part of becoming independent of teenagers trying to be adult while they are still growing up. Young people are usually more willing to talk if they believe that questions are asked out of read interest and not because people are trying to check up on them.

Parents should do their best to talk to their sons and daughters about school work and future plan but should not push them to talk if they don't want to. Parents should also watch for the danger signs: some young people in trying to be adult may experiment with sex, drugs, alcohol or smoking. Parents need to watch for any signs of unusual behavior which may be connected with these and get help if necessary.

It is common for all of us to take more tasks than our desired potential. This can often result in stress and tiredness. Learn the art of sharing work with your partners based on their skills and abilities.

Before the start of the day, make a list of tasks that need your immediate attention as unimportant tasks can consume much of your precious time. Some tasks need to be completed on that day only while other unimportant tasks could be carried forward to next day. In short, prioritise your tasks to focus on those that are more important.

Carry a planner or notebook with you and list all the tasks that come to your mind. Make a simple "To Do" list before the start of the day, prioritise the tasks and make sure that they attainable. To better manage your time-management skills, you may think of making three lists: work, home and personal.

Stress often occurs when we accept more work than our ability. The result is that our body starts feeling tired, which can affect our productivity. Instead, share tasks with your partners and make sure to leave some time for relaxation.

Most of the successful men and women have one thing in common. They start their early as it gives them time to sit, think and plan their day. When you get up early, you are more calm, creative and clear-headed. As the day progresses, your energy levels start going down, which affects your productivity and your performance as well
