Possessive case or of + noun

POSSESSIVE CASE (GENERAL RULE)

- Singular possessor + 's + thing
  Lucy's bike
  James's car (but also: James' car)
  The baker's (shop) / John's (house)

- Possessors + ' + thing
  The students' school
  The Simpsons' house
  but: Our children's books

- Two possessors + 's + thing
  Jack and Jim's house

- Possessor's and possessor's + things
  Jim's and Mark's bikes

WITH

people animals
places, countries and cities time and measure expressions indefinite pronouns
means of transport

OF + NOUN

with non-living objects
The pages of the book

in relative clauses
The father of the girl who lives...

In case of double possessive
The dog of Mark's brother

Correct the sentences by using the POSSESSIVE CASE, as in the example

The cat of Lisa is funny. — Lisa's cat is funny

The museums of London are interesting.

The shop of the grocer is there.

The kennel of the dog's in the garden

The house of Lucas is big.

The car of my parents is in the garage.

It's a journey of three miles!

Give me the newspaper of today, please.

Go to the house of Mary!

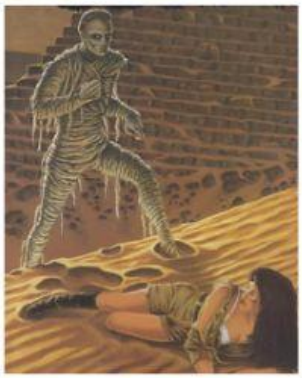

They are in the church of St Peter.

The house of Mark and Paul is beautiful.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Possessive case or of + noun?

Choose the correct title for these famous films

The Mummy's Curse

The Curse of the Mummy

The Rings' Lord

The Lord of the Rings

The Astronaut's Wife

The Wife of the Astronaut

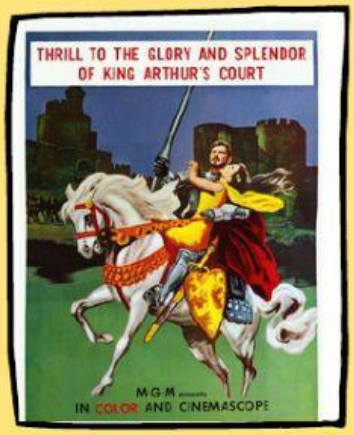

Worlds' War

War of the Worlds

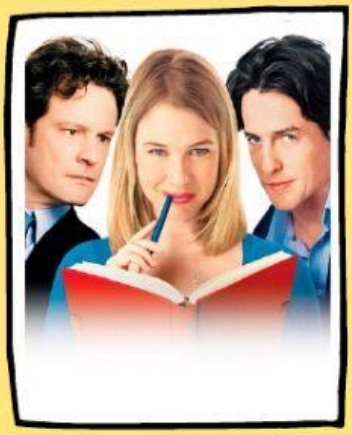

Mr Bean's Holiday

The Holiday of Mr Bean

The Round Table's Knights

Knights of the Round Table

Bridget Jones's Diary

The Diary of Bridget Jones

Dracula's Legacy

The Legacy of Dracula

Fathers' Day

The Day of the Fathers

Howl's Moving Castle

The Moving Castle of Howl

Happyness's Pursuit

The Pursuit of Happyness

The Fears' House

House of Fears

LIVEWORKSHEETS