Read the passage then answer the questions:

If you think food is only about eating - think again! What we eat is interesting and important but so is how we eat it.

Table manners are different in different places - but most different in China! Here are a number of examples:

- In most parts of the world, plates and bowls should remain on the table. People raise the food from their plate to their mouth. However, in China they raise rice bowls to the mouth.
- In some countries people think it is impolite to make a noise when you are eating. However, in China people consider it acceptable to make a noise when you drink soup.
- In most countries it is normal to finish all the food on your plate to show you like it. However, in China it is polite to leave some food on your plate. This shows you are full. If you empty your plate, people will think you are still hungry and they will give you more.
