B. Choose a, b, c or d.

How much do we judge people by their (1) _____? An experiment carried (2) _____ by a newspaper in the United States has proved that we are often (3) _____ by a person's appearance. On a morning in January 2007 at one of Washington's busiest subway stations, where a(n) (4) _____ number of people were on their way to work, a man dressed in casual clothes picked up his violin and started playing. The (5) _____ of the people in the station continued walking and took no notice (6) _____ him and the music he was playing. If only they (7) _____ that the musician was Joshua Bell, one of the world's best violinists, playing some of the most difficult music ever written, on a hand-made violin worth over $3.5 million! One of the few people who (8) _____ the music being played was a three-year-old boy who stopped to listen. His mother, however, was in too much of a hurry and pulled her child away. The experiment proves that if we weren't so busy rushing around in modern life, we wouldn't miss out on the beauty around us so often. It also reminds us not to judge people by their appearance!
