

On July 5th in 1941, both countries fight for the Amazonian position that Ecuador and Peru claimed as their own for more than a century. Finally, Peru won the Ecuadorian territory.

The border between Ecuador and Peru begins between the coastal cities of Zurumilla and Huaquillas. The territorial dispute over the Amazon and Andes regions ended in wars. In 1998 Alberto Fujimori and Jamil Mahuad signed the Brasilia Peace Agreement

LIVEWORKSHEETS