Animals

vertebrate five arthropods fish lungs reptiles molluscs

octopus birds gills exoskeleton invertebrate insects

sea-urchin mammals starfish six worms squid

1) An animal that has a backbone is called a _____ and an animal without a backbone is called an _____.

2) There are _ _ _ _ main groups of vertebrates and _ _ _ main groups of invertebrates.

3) The five main groups of vertebrates are _____, _____, _____, _____ and _____.

4) _____ like ants and bees are invertebrates.

5) Slugs and snails are _____ that live on land and _____, _____ and cuttlefish are molluscs that live in the sea.

6) Mammals breathe using _____ and fish breathe using _____.

7) Scorpions, spiders, crabs and insects are called _____ because they have hard bodies called an _____.

8) Animals like the _____ and _____-_____ are called echinoderms.

9) _____ and leeches are annelid because they have their bodies segmented in rings.